Meeting Recap

We returned to something more like the normal line of succession on Wednesday as president elect Lisa was running the show in Andrew's absence. Lisa reminded everyone of the Centennial Committee meeting that was coming up later that evening for those who are planning and preparing for our club's 100th anniversary in 2019! Lisa passed around a signup sheet for greeters in February, noting that "shaking" may not be part of greeting until the cold and flu season has passed. Pete suggested that we could perhaps use the hand motions used in the movie Demolition Man (which evidently don't involve contact) to greet one another until such time that the risk of passing on the flu subsides.

Matej's Program Next Week

Our RYE student, Matej, will be giving a program on his country and his experiences as a RYE student on next Wednesday. Let's have a great turnout to support Mat!

Second Notice of Proposal for Membership

Jamie Williams who is the director of Ericson Public Library has been proposed for membership. Please direct and feedback regarding Jamie's membership to Pres. Andrew or a board member.

Sergeant at Arms

Sergeant Cody collected happy dollars from Pete who is the "only" one at his work who has not had a cold or flu and Jeff was looking forward to adding Demolition Man to his Netflix queue to see what this flu-avoiding greeting that Pete suggested is all about. Jeff and Tim was also "glad" that Vikings made sure the "just once before I die" riders on their life insurance policies are good for another year. Abby was appreciative of Mary's help putting together the packets for the auction and Dave was hoping that KSU beats Kansas this weekend to take over first place in the Big 12. Becky was happy to have Matej living with them but Steve was sad that he was not (living with them) anymore. Susan paid a dollar to promote BCT's production of Nunsense (you need to reserve tickets at least a week in advance) and Amy was still looking for more help in the concession stand this Friday from 6:30 to 9:00.

Quote of the Week

People don't notice whether it's winter or summer when they're happy.

Auction Planning Day

Auction tri-chairs Abby, Amy, and Cody were greeted with cheers of “dilly, dilly!” (I guess it was pop culture reference day at the Boone Rotary Club) to express appreciation for their agreeing to lead this effort again this year! Abby noted that the auction will be held at Seven Oaks on Friday June 15th this year. The tickets will once again be $20 and the dinner will feature Troy’s famous pulled pork sandwiches and Abby will once again provide the side dishes. She indicated that the theme for this year’s auction has not been finalized (Luau, Tropical, Demolition Man...) but that will be determined in the weeks ahead. There was some discussion about having music, noting that it can be loud but that they do also provide a nice sound system for use with the auction and announcements...

Abby shared that some of the “big” items that have already been procured for this year’s event include four tickets to the July 14 (2:00 PM) performance of Hamilton the Musical, four tickets to an ISU game, ISU and Iowa “pub” tables, and a diamond necklace! Packets were distributed to each member that included the sheets with the names of the businesses/entities each of us are to contact along with receipts and invoices for those that require them. The complete contact list was emailed yesterday so you can not only see who you are to contact but also whether other businesses that you may want to approach have already been assigned to someone else (don’t want to approach potential donors twice). Amy did note that some businesses set an annual budget for donations and that once it has been distributed they are “done” for the year. Contacting business “soon” will help assure that we don’t get left out!

Thanks again to Abby, Amy, and Cody for agreeing to chair this year’s event!

See you next week!
